

‘The Tiniest Hug’

In honor of World Prematurity Day on Nov. 17, we salute all NICU professionals. We know how important it is to deliver that extra special care your babies need to thrive, and that’s why we’re proud to have worked closely with NICU nurses and neonatal therapists to specially design and develop Huggies® Little Snugglers® Nano and Micro Premie diapers. Learn more about how Huggies cares for preemies in this video, “The Tiniest Hugs.”

WATCH THE VIDEO →

Free resources to share with families

Are you looking for educational resources to share with the families you work with every day?

Check out the downloadable articles and videos on our website covering topics like bonding with baby through mindful diapering practices, skin care for baby and finding support for families who may need help affording diapers, and then share them with your families.

GET THE RESOURCES →

Introducing a new, no-cost, parent education tool

Speaking of free resources, we are proud to announce a new partnership with CareFree: the first no-cost, tablet-based teaching platform entirely designed to engage and educate your new parents on everything they need to know before, during and after pregnancy. Supplies for this free education resource are limited.

LEARN MORE →

Join Us on LinkedIn

Let’s connect on LinkedIn! You’ll get the latest news, skin health research from our scientists and tools to help support you and the families you serve.

FOLLOW US →

